

Curriculum Vitae

- Received her Master degree in sociology from the Jagiellonian University in Krakow. Completed postgraduate studies in European Law at the same university, as well as Pedagogical Study for teachers. Studied abroad at the University of Maastricht, Holland, and at the University of Washington, USA. Participated in international seminars for graduate students at Brown University, USA and at the University of Bologna, Italy.
- Her doctoral dissertation deals with the problem of age discrimination in the labour market in Poland. The defense of the dissertation will take place in June 2012 at the Jagiellonian University in Krakow.
- Researcher in various international research project. Among them: "CASE – Cities Against Social Exclusion" (funded by European Commission), "Carers@Work - Between Job and Care: Conflict or Opportunity?" (funded by the Volkswagen Foundation), "IACS – Improving Access to Community-Based Services for Older People Living at Home" (funded by European Commission), "ASPA - Activating Senior Potential in Ageing Europe" (funded by European Commission), "Age Discrimination in the labour market in Poland" (funded by Polish Ministry of Science and Higher Education)
- Expert for age discrimination in project "Equal treatment - the standard of good governance", carried out for the Polish Government Plenipotentiary for Equal Treatment
- Taught various courses in Department of Sociology at the Jagiellonian University (i.e. "Democracy and Minority Rights", "Contemporary Sociological Theories", "Gender and Law"), as well in Medical College of Jagiellonian University ("Sociology of medicine")